We have been using PLATO XERI™ since 2004 and are very satisfied with both the software and the PLATO support. We need a continuous traceability and this can be easily achieved with XERI™.

The documentation, such as design dossiers and regulatory requirements, can be optimally mapped and made available.

XERI™

Document Management

Simple - Reliable - Web-based

What is PLATO XERI™?

XERI™ is a secure and efficient document management software for the systematic and standardized control of the documents in your organization.

As an active system, XERI™ monitors all activities of a document so that the author doesn't have to worry about formal and administrative activities and can focus on the content.

With the uncomplicated access via the web browser, you can easily find, create, release and publish documents. Live searches, tagging, and savable search filters make it easier for your employees to access the right document.

Nothing is Forgotten. You Always have an Overview.

XERI™ is your personal assistant. It informs, reminds, and escalates. It provides transparency in terms of unfinished tasks and the status of your documents. Applicable documents are linked and monitored. Inconsistencies in the document landscape are detected. XERI™ takes the burden of formal and administrative tasks off your hands.

Perfect Support for the Document Lifecycle

All critical activities performed in the life of a document are monitored by XERI™. Use this advantage to your benefit for document management so you can concentrate on the content of the documents. Working with requirements, rules, and suggestions creates standards in your organization.

You can lean back and relax because XERI™ makes sure the latest version of the right document fulfills the formal requirements and is made available to the right user of the document.

The following applies in this case: only valid and up-to-date documents are available!

Flexible Integration Capabilities

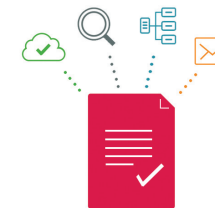

Easy to implement interfaces using an extensively documented application programming interface (API).

Complying with Standards

The fulfillment of the requirements in standards and compliance with legal regulations is ensured throughout and is clearly documented at all times.

Simple and Intuitive

Creating, releasing, providing, and searching for organizational documents of all kinds is all very easy with XERI™.

Familiar and Helpful

The integration of familiar applications makes working with documents easier. Everything is designed for simple and intuitive use.
